

Forum in Pula – Follow up Report

DISCLAIMER

This document reflects the author's views; the Programme authorities are not liable for any use that may be made of the information contained therein.

Forum Agenda

Wednesday, December 5th, 2018

09:00 – 09:15 Registration of participants

9:15 – 10:00 Opening Greetings:

Boris Sabatti, Director of the Istrian Development Agency (IDA)

Francesco Adamo, Responsible of the Geoprogress Global Forum (GGF) and the Conference

10:00 – 11:00 I. Environmental Sustainability and Multimodality in Maritime Transport:
The Transpogood Project

Chairman: Francesco Adamo (Geoprogress, Onlus)

- The TRANSPOGOOD project: objectives, actions, first results and possible synergies with other projects in progress - KIP – Intermodal Transport Cluster
- The ports of the Upper Adriatic between competitiveness and cooperation – Representatives of Port of Zadar Authority and Port of Ploce Authority
- Multimodality and ICT in the growth of competitiveness and sustainability of maritime transport - CFLI – Intermodal Logistics Training Consortium (IT)

11:00 – 11:30 Coffee break

11:30 – 13:00 II. Sustainability and multimodality of transport: trends, applications and examples.

Chairman: Maurizio Cociancich

- Sustainability and multi-modality in European transport policy - Elevante
- Multimodal transport and the Alps: some opportunities in the Veneto Region – The SmartLogi Project – IUAV, University of Venice,
- Main Transport Flow in Italy-Croatia Area – University of Trieste
- Transport policy in the development of Croatia – University of Rijeka

- New trends in sustainability policies – University of Padua

13:00 – 14:30 Lunch break

14:30 – 16:30 III. Round Table: Sustainability and Multimodality: what is the future of Transport in the Adriatic Region?

Chairman: Marco Mazzarino, University of Venice, IUAV

Speakers: Business managers and Public decision-makers

16:00 – 16:15 Coffee break

16:15 – 17:15 Closing Session. Lessons from current North Adriatic projects –
Proposals of studies and actions for the progress of maritime sustainable transport

Speakers: Chairmen of the forum sessions and participants

Forum event - Pula

On December 5, 2018 the Conference on transport multimodality was held together with the TRANSPOGOOD Forum. The main issues tackled during the Conference were possible scenarios in the Adriatic region in the context of transport towards multimodality. The Conference was organised by The Geoprogess Global Forum (GGF), which is an international initiative promoted by the Geoprogess Journal that is an open access e-journal, submitted to a double-blind peer review, edited by Geoprogess.

EU Transport Commissioner Violeta Bulc has called for 2018 to be the "Year of Multimodality" - a year during which the Commission will raise the importance of multimodality for the EU transport system. The TRANSPOGOOD forum, although organized independently from the EC, and in collaboration with the Geoprogess Global Forum, aims at creating an opportunity for discussion on the main EU policy and topics relating to sustainability and multimodality to contribute to the public discourse and scientific approach to a more sustainable and competitive multimodal transport.

