

1. Introduction

The Adriatic Sea houses a large number of diverse and unique marine ecosystems. These ecosystems are a key developing factor for Blue Economy purposes. Enhancing their attractiveness is compulsory in order to foster Blue Growth across the Adriatic Sea. To this aim, ADRIREEF focuses on the development of project outputs able to open concrete opportunities for environment protection and to foster the creation of new economic activities, making the Adriatic area more attractive for SMEs investments and development. Moreover, ADRIREEF is expected to contribute to knowledge transfer by drafting relevant documents concerning both decision-makers and blue economy stakeholders.

In order to achieve these goals, a specific activity has been foreseen in the Adrireef Application Form, such as A.3.5 “Stakeholders’ analysis”, a systematic way to analyze stakeholders by their power and interest within Adrireef project and generally the Blue Economy sector. This activity is based on a specific strategy – developed by PPs – aimed at profiling and facilitating the involvement of the relevant stakeholders through 3 main steps: a) Individuation of the list of stakeholders in the Blue economy sectors (e.g. diving, fishing, aquaculture); b) Stakeholder analysis and their potential impact in the exploitation of reefs; c) Reporting of gained results.

This document is the report of the stakeholder analysis and the engagement strategy developed during the first year of the Adrireef project. It sets out the methodology and gives an account of the stakeholder analysis results and established engagement strategies. Also, it sites specific recommendations for further stakeholder engagement on activities concerning the selected case study sites. An effort has been made to summarize the collected information in a comparable format so to provide a comparative overview that can form the basis for further analysis, monitoring and evaluation, and that can feed the process of guidelines development. Hence, this document will provide basis for implementing further project activities, especially A.2.6 “Stakeholders’ survey”.

2. Stakeholders' analysis

2.1. Activity overview

The stakeholder analysis has been an important issue for both project implementation and dissemination of the results. The mapping was aimed at achieving a double result:

- ⇒ In the implementation phase of the project, it provided an overview of the stakeholders involved in the Blue Economy sector, focused on the countries directly involved in the Adrireef project;
- ⇒ In the communication phase, it allowed the selection and contact of specific actors (public and private) who can play a strategic role both in planning and in informing and awareness-raising activities of other parties involved.

The stakeholder analysis methodology provided partners with a standard strategy, steps and tools to identify, analyse and select stakeholders having the potential to produce a concrete socio-economic impact through the implementation and spreading of the guidelines and code of conduct, which will be part of ADRIREEF's outputs and deliverables.

The methodology approach was focused on the identification of the most relevant bodies – defined as Key Stakeholders – starting from those categories of stakeholders considered as strategic for the project purposes (according to the project Application Form) (Figure n.1):

PPs directly responsible for the research activities were the following:

- Municipality of Ravenna;
- Association for nature, environment and sustainable development SUNCE;
- Public Institution RERA SD for coordination and development of Split-Dalmatia County;
- Zadar County development agency Zadra Nova.

Under the coordination of the responsible PPs a specific workplan was developed: as illustrated in the below infographic (Figure n.2), to ensure the success of act. 3.5 (and consequently the success of the abovementioned act. 2.6), the mapping is divided in three different and subsequent phases and sub-phases. All partners were requested to go through the following steps and provide for each step the required output:

2.2. Phase 1: Definition of the methodology

The starting point for carrying out the mapping activity was the development of a matrix aimed at cataloging the stakeholders. This matrix was made of 4 worksheets:

1. Public Authorities (Figure n.3)
2. SMEs (Figure n.4)
3. Research bodies (Figure n.5)
4. General sheet

N.B Associations and no-profit bodies in general are compiled in the SMEs category – apart from research bodies

Each worksheet is composed of two main sections:

- Stakeholder details – includes general information, such as company name, a short description of the performed activity, location and stakeholder contacts; each sheet also presents some specific features, that distinguish the target group categories; and they have to be based on clear data and on the evidence that reef exploitation and innovative actions on the reefs are valuable and economically worthwhile. It would be preferable, to propose to SMEs (especially in the fishing sector) a plan to integrate their classical activities with recreational ones and to propose them a model based on the integration of income.

- ⇒ Research and educational center –The Blue Economy sector is nowadays an increasingly widespread and studied theme, also thanks to the support of EU funds. The role of the academic world is therefore to converge forces towards a single goal: promoting the contamination and deep interaction between heterogeneous but complementary projects (ie CTE Programs analysing natural ecosystems from different points of view), through the constant sharing of information, skills and tools acquired in the course of projects. To increase this contamination, the main suggestion that comes from interviewed Research and educational centres is to widen the audience of beneficiaries by involving also schools of all types and levels through little projects differentiated by age and course of studies.

WP 3_Act. 3.5 Stakeholders analysis

Deliverables 3.5.1/3.5.3

ANNEX N. 4

COMPARATIVE TABLES

Public authorities

The table shows the sum of the points collected in the 4 relevance categories from each Focal Point. Data show a good balance of the four criteria.

Focal Points Rera and Comune di Ravenna found a list of stakeholders with a very high weight in terms of thematic relevance, Sunce's list centred mainly on geographic relevance, while for Focal Point Zadra Nova the coherence of the mission is predominant.

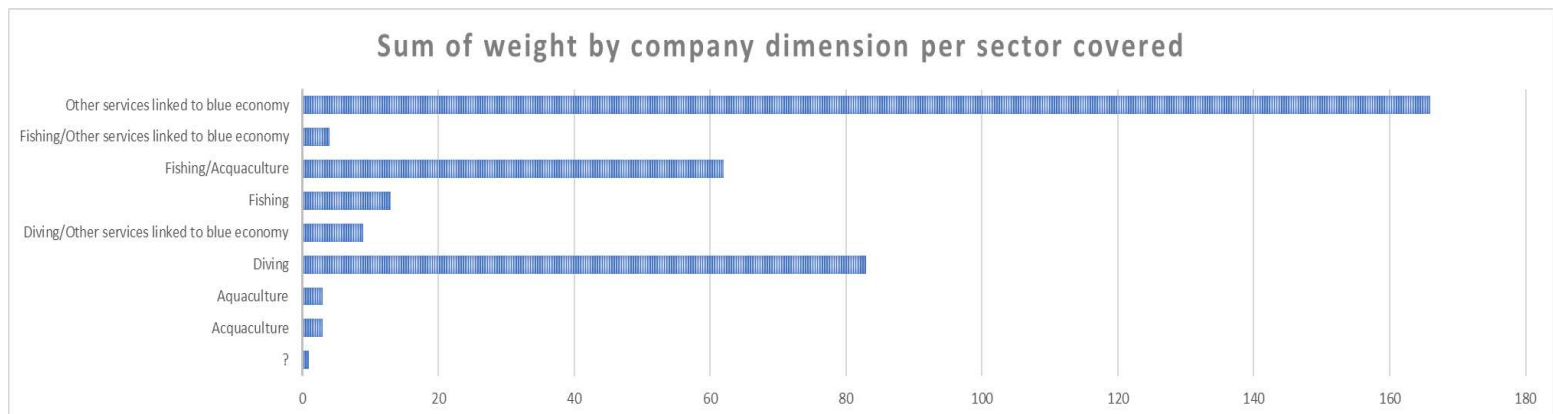

In general, there is a good focus on bodies having high relevance for local policies and the coherence of their mission with the project objectives is in line with the expectations.

SMEs

The matrix concerning SMEs is particularly interesting to be analysed. The table below shows the business sector in which the stakeholders are mainly employed: diving is the most recurring sector, followed by fishing and aquaculture.

Also, data show that analysed companies are mainly micro or small enterprises

Research

The table shows the sum of the points collected in the 4 relevance categories from each Focal Point. Data show there is a good focus on bodies having a long former experience and whose mission is very in line and coherent with the project objectives
